

Jose

Birthdate
October 1997

Meet Jose! He is an animal lover!

Jose is quiet and shy when you first meet him but once you get to know him you will discover a very sweet and loving young man. Like most teens his age he enjoys playing video games, music and hanging out with his friends. Jose loves one-on-one attention and thrives on praise from adults. Jose is a great helper and loves to stay busy with his hands.

Jose attends an alternative school and is on an IEP to help him be successful academically as well as behaviorally. Since Jose has been in his alternative school he has done well with his socialization skills and has been able to focus more on his academics. Jose is currently in therapy to help him address his behavior challenges and to help him improve his coping mechanisms. In addition, he is also working on his feelings of grief and loss/abandonment by his birth family. Jose has been engaging in the therapeutic process and has been making great progress.

Jose needs a family! Jose's family needs to have time to devote to him and to advocate for him in all areas. Jose would do well in family where he is the only child or the youngest child in the family. In addition, he needs a two parent family that is very nurturing but also able to set very strong boundaries/limits and who are consistent in their follow through.

If you are the family that can love and support Jose as he grows into a healthy adult, I look forward to hearing from you.
